

The Swiss Academy of Sciences (SCNAT) and its 35,000 experts dedicate themselves regionally, nationally and internationally to the future of the sciences and society. As part of the Swiss Academies of Arts and Sciences, SCNAT is committed to strengthening awareness of the natural sciences as a central pillar of cultural and economic development. www.scnat.ch

To strengthen our two-person IT team from 1 July 2012 or by agreement, we are looking for a young software engineer / Real Studio developer (80 %)

Your tasks

- Development, maintenance and continued development of the application server infrastructure with Real Studio
- Development, continued development and configuration of our web portal, including web edition
- Migration of the existing server landscapes (version or product changes)
- Software implementation and tests
- Preparation of handbooks and documentation

Your profile

- Qualified engineer specialising in software or information technology and some years of professional experience
- Good knowledge of and experience with Apple Mac platform
- Experience with the implementation of complex business applications
- Experience with OO programming
- Experience with PostgreSQL, MySQL or a comparable database system
- Ideally, knowledge of REST interfaces and programming in Real Studio
- Ideally, good CMS skills
- Independent, reliable and creative team player who is committed to quality

We can offer you

- Workplace in an interesting environment in the vicinity of the Berne main station
- Progressive social benefits
- Permanent appointment or appointment for the duration of the project

Please send your complete application dossier by 15 June 2012 to: personaldienst@scnat.ch or the Swiss Academy of Sciences (SCNAT), Human Resources, Schwarztorstrasse 9, 3007 Berne. More information can be obtained from Mr Stefan Schmidlin, Head of IT, 031 310 40 33.